STEAMER GOES TO PIECES, MANY LIVES LOST

Pacific Coast Was Scene Of Disaster Late Friday Night

CAPTAIN WAS BLAMED FOR NEGLECT

(By Associated Press.)

Santa Barbara, Cal., July 8—Despite denials from company officials survivors of the wreck declare that more than four sailors lost their lives. One hundred and ninety-two passengers have been accounted for and 290 were on board. It is believed that the missing are all drowned. It will be many days before the exact number is known.

All the saved were drenched to the skin while coming ashore in a breetchel buoy and none had eaten since noon yesterday. Half a dozen were taken from the boat on stretchers. Only a few of the cooler headed could talk about the wreck.

Santa Barbara, California, July 8—That four seamen and twenty-five passengers perished last night in the wreck of the steamer Santa Rosa, off Arguello Point, was the statement of survivors who arrived here by rail this morning. Purser Carlton admits that he is unable to check off the list of passengers and that he is by no means certain that all of the 290 passengers landed safely.

The survivors bitterly criticised Captain Faris for holding them on board the doomed vessel, as she lay on the rocks all day yesterday when a landing could have been effected without peril to anyone. Finally, claim the survivors, a delegation of passengers, headed by two San Francisco men, went to the captain and then threatened him unless they were permitted to land. With the sea rising at an alarming rate, Faris yielded, they declare.

A few minutes later the steamer split amidship and began to break up. The first life boat launch was at once swamped and all aboard perished.

Sentries have been placed along the shore near the wreck to watch for bodies that are expected to be washed up by the waves. The survivors declare the officers of the steamship company are trying to [illegible] the true number of passengers [illegible] perished. Brown carried a line to shore, and when he had effected a landing, after a desperate battle with the waves, and had arrived on shore, A net was rigged on the shore line and the passengers, women and children first, were taken from the floundering chip, three and four at a time.

Efforts had been made earlier in the day by the officers of the steamer Helen P. Drew to induce the captain of the Santa Rosa to land his passengers, and the Drew still stood by in an attempt to aid the distressed vessel.

The landing of the passengers of the Santa Rosa, a large number of whom were women, was attended with the utmost danger, and several acts of heroism were performed by the crew in taking their helpless charges to shore. A life raft containing 20 women capsized off the bow of the Santa Rosa. Darkness had fallen and the search lights on shore lighted the scene imperfectly, so that it could not be clearly determined whether all the women were rescued. Fires were built from driftwood along the beach, and when the drenched survivors were landed they were given coffee and restoratives.

Captain H. W. Henderson, master of the Point Arguello lighthouse was one of the first men to reach the scene of the wreck. He expressed astonishment at the grounding of the vessel.

"The weather was clear, the sea as calm as a lake and conditions ideal for the most careless navigator," he said. "I don't see how it was possible for the boat to run ashore."

New Tax Law Will Not Be Amended

(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., July 8—"There will be no special session of the Ohio legislature to amend the new Smith 1 per cent law and Mayor Baehr, of Cleveland, may as well drop his efforts to work up sentiment for it," declared Judge Robert Ditty, chairman of the state tax commission today.

"Mayor Baehr from the very start has tried to discredit the Smith law and a man so prejudiced against it as he cannot be expected to try to make it work. I take it that Baehr wants to go back to the old methods where there was but slight limitation on the spending of the people's money," said Ditty.

Kisses Worth The Fine

New York, July 8—Kisses at $13.25 are rather expensive, thought Dominick Pugliese of Chestnut place, Roselle, N. J., after facing Judge Van S. Roosa, of Roselle, in court and paying that sum on a charge of disorderly conduct committed when he seized Miss Margaret Hudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hudson, of No. 311 Clay avenue, West, and placed an ardent kiss on her lips.

"I will give you $10, Judge," said Pugliese, "and no more."

The Judge was determined and the fine was upheld.

"It was worth it, anyway," said the osculator.

ETHEL BARRYMORE IS IS TO SUE FOR DIVORCE

Los Angeles, Cal., July 8—Ethel Barrymore, the actress, whose marriage to Russell Griswold Colt, a prominent and rich young Easterner, two years ago, was one of the romances involving a talented daughter of the stage and the scion of a wealthy family, is preparing to sue for divorce, her friends declare. She is now playing in this city.

According to Miss Barrymore's friends a messenger, bearing a packet of legal papers is on his way to New York. He is to arrive there Sunday night. The suit is to be filed Monday and is to charge the only offense on which a divorce is granted in New York —infidelity. A woman's name is to be given in the complaint, it is said.

The domestic trouble, so far as the affairs of the actress and her young husband are concerned is said to have manifested itself to friends months ago. Colt, Miss Barrymore tells her friends, sowed wild oats extensively before his marriage. It was supposed that he would settle down after his marriage, but such was not the case, she says.

Even after the baby came to their home the young man is said to have been so neglectful and indifferent to his domestic ties as to compel action by his wife. Then she planned the trip West and the first steps were taken when she arrived here.

COMMISSION MAY TAKE NEW SALARY

(By Associated Press.)

Columbus, Ohio, July 8—In a ruling given out today Attorney General Hogan held that former railroad commissioners who now constitute the new public service commission of Ohio, may legally draw their increase in salary of $1,000 per year.

The question was raised as to whether or not the constitution prohibiting against the changing in the compensation of an official salary applied in the cases of these officials. Hogan has decided the legislature legally created a new office for these men.

In a separate opinion he rendered that the commission could use the appropriations of 1911-12 for the state railroad commission, still available, for the new commission. Without this money the commission would be hampered.

Ryan took in the affair, was made in a resolution introduced in the house this afternoon by Representative Dox, Democrat, of Indiana.

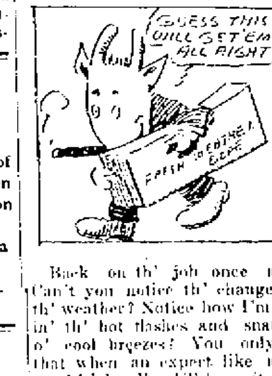

The resolution was based on the story circulated by Miss M. F. Abbott yesterday that correspondence implicating Charles P. Taft with the Guggenheims in the attempt to control all available railway outlets for Alaska coal, was in the file of the general land office.

BOODLE PROBE IS NEARING A CLOSE

Judge Blair was at the court house Saturday morning but only for a short time, leaving to attend the meeting of the dry forces and later in the day departed for Ashland, O., where he will address a men's mass meeting Sunday afternoon.

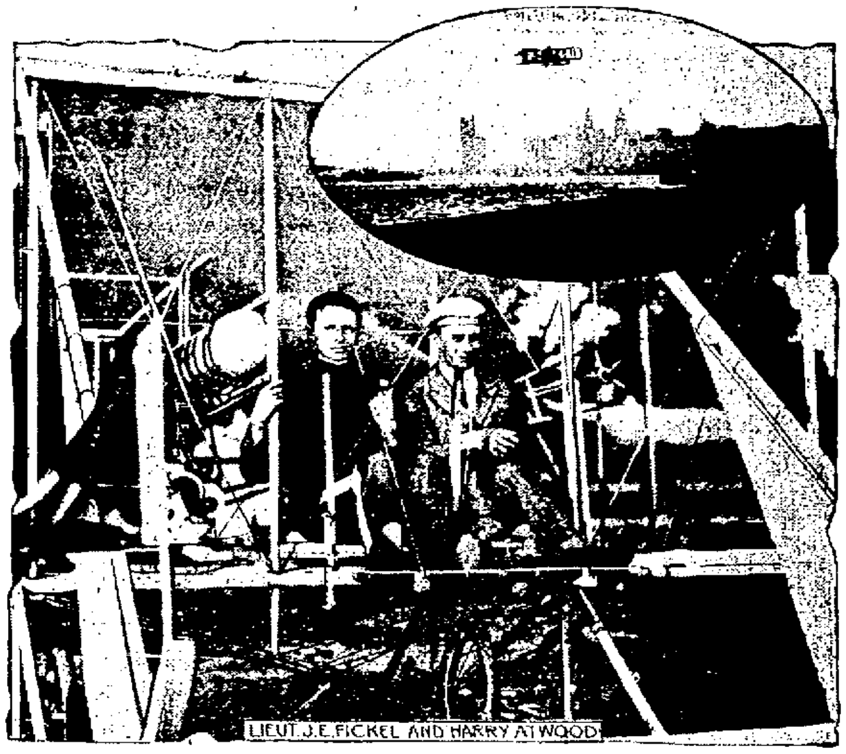

The judge left West Union on Friday afternoon immediately after receiving the report of the Adams county grand jury at the close of a three day session. Eleven indictments were returned by the jury, all for the same old offense—boodling.

While the jurors were excused subject to recall it is believed that the probe is at an end though it may be necessary to call them back for a brief session.

Judge Blair expects to get back on the job down in Adams county the first of next week and remain there until each and every boodler is found and made to answer to the court. When the probe is concluded it is though there will have been close to 1700 voters disfranchised as a total result of the cleaning up.

A few odds and ends remain on the outside yet and when these are attended to the most famous boodle probe in the history of the world will have come to an end.

Atwood Is The Latest Air Daredevil

LIEUT. J. E. FICKEL AND HARRY ATWOOD

Atlantic City, July 8—Harry Atwood, the latest aviation phenomenon, who stopped here during his Boston to Washington flight in an aeroplane, has made a reputation for daring that will live long in the annals of the air. Atwood, who carried an army officer, Lieutenant Fickel, with him during part of his flight, seems utterly without fear. He was the first man to make the dangerous flight over the lofty skyscrapers of New York City. One of his favorite exploits is to depress his elevating gear and plunge straight toward the earth. When about 100 feet from the ground, however, when spectators stand aghast, he smilingly brings his machine to its proper position and speeds on his way. Aviation experts say that if Atwood continues his present tactics he will be lucky if he lives a month longer. Atwood, who is a Wright pupil, took his first aeroplane ride about five weeks ago.

Closing Scenes Of The Erie Meetings

Erie, Pa., July 8—(Spl)—When the reader is looking over this letter, the Sunday evangelistic meetings here will be at an end, save those of the last day, when it is expected the largest audiences of the campaign will be present. The last day and the last sermon, especially, will bring in many converts, as it is at the evening service that Mr. Sunday takes as his text: "I Will Tomorrow," and that sermon has great drawing power.

Communities continue to send delegations here in an effort to secure Mr. Sunday, but his time is practically all taken up until the latter part of the year 1913. Among other cities that want him are Akron, Mansfield, McKeesport, Cleveland, Fargo, N. D., and Waco, Texas. The committee from the latter city came prepared to make good anything that might be necessary. Realizing that there was not one large enough vacant lot in the city on which to build a tabernacle, the council of the city passed a resolution providing for the vacating of two streets that they together with the vacant lots on each of the four corners abutting, could be used as a site.

The action of the council of Waco is in striking contrast with that of Johnstown, Pa. A majority of the people there want Mr. Sunday, but the city council declined to issue a permit for the building of a tabernacle.

Distinguished and prominent men, bishops, evangelists, statesmen, authors and vocalists continue to come in and by their presence add to the interest of the meetings. Chas. H. Gabriel, author of many favorite hymns, and a soloist of renown, has been a guest at the Sunday headquarters and has favored the audiences at the tabernacle with numerous vocal selections.

Mrs. B. D. Ackley, of Philadelphia, wife of the pianist, and their sweet little child, has been here some days, and Rev. A. B. Ackley, a brother, has also been here. He has been with Rev. Biderwolf, who just closed meetings at Piqua and Lorain.

Rev. L. K. Peacock, who succeeds Rev. Honeywell, has been in attendance at the meetings this week, getting acquainted with his duties.

Wednesday night, [illegible] in 38 years, 5,000 persons were present at the meeting.

Friday evening the Men's Personal Workers' League, led by a brass band, paraded the streets and were joined by many other Christian people.

Miss Mae Laren, who left Thursday for a two months' [illegible] land, was given a farewell reception Wednesday evening. In response to continued applause she sang "Mine [illegible]," and left amid a Chautauqua salute and the good wishes of all.

Following the closing sermon, I have planned to leave on the steamer for Cleveland Monday night. While enroute to the Forest City, will send you a wireless message.

E. F. Rideout writes me as follows: "Enclosed find check for $10 for W. A. Sunday from the Men's Personal Workers' League. The men are glad to give it as they have a very warm spot for 'Billy.' We wish it were many times more. This does not express the love they have for him, but only to let him know they love him and are standing steadfast for the mutual Savior. They all send a 'God bless you.'"

HOBBLE SKIRT LED UP TO THIS DIVORCE SUIT

Columbus, O., July 8—Mrs. Ella McCarty has filed suit for divorce against William McCarty, of Portsmouth, O. She alleges that they have one child, Harold, aged four, and that previous to last spring her husband conducted a smoke house on North Chillicothe street in Portsmouth, and that he left her suddenly and has since contributed very little toward the support of the child. He is now employed in a Portsmouth shoe factory. E. M. Hill's son is her attorney.

The McCartys had a stormy time during the period of their separation. McCarty conducted a cigar store and pool room. He alleged that his wife went to a dance one night at Kendall's hall, wearing a hobble skirt, against his protests, and this made him so angry that he left her. Later he came back and both denied having had trouble or having separated. The reconciliation was short-lived, however, and a permanent separation soon took place. Now comes the wife's suit for divorce.

SOME PRIMARY FACTS

The indications are there will be a plentitude of candidates at the primaries this fall.

That being the case it will be well for all those interested to bear in mind the following requirements as set down by Attorney General Hogan:

The primaries for all parties will be held on the same day, Tuesday, September 5th.

All petitions of candidates for the primaries must be filed with the board of elections by August 6th.

Persons who desire to appear on the primary ballot must have their petitions duly signed and filed by that date.

Petitions must contain signatures of qualified voters equal to two per cent of the party vote of the city or ward at the last general election.

The petition must declare the party, which the candidate desires to represent.

All the names of candidates will be printed on the one ballot of the party they stand for.

The voting places will be the same as at the general election, or many be otherwise provided by the board of elections, which will appoint the judges and the clerks.

New Fuel Supply Now Discovered

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, July 8—In briquets of lignite the government Bureau of Mines believes it has developed a fuel supply that will be of immense value to the west where high grade coal can be obtained only at excessive cost. A powerful machine brought from Germany has solved the difficulty which heretofore has limited the manufacture of briquettes—the cost of the pitch to hold coal dust together.

Lignite is a poor form of brown colored coal found in great abundance in North and South Dakota, Montana, Texas and other Western states. Its tendency to slack soon after being mined makes it troublesome to transport and it does not burn readily on account of the presence of between 30 and 40 percent of moisture. The bureau of mines conducted experiments at Williston, North Dakota, and developed a furnace that would burn lignite satisfactorily. Now that the experiments have gone for enough to indicate that briquets can be made successfully at low cost, the bar to transportation of lignite seems to have been removed.

Charles L. Wright, of the bureau estimates the cost of briquets loaded at the mines at $2.51 a ton in Texas; $3.53 in North Dakota and $5.24 in California.

Science Making Life Easy

The small things in life are usually the most important—for example, a cake of poor soap may not only spoil the week's wash, and the temper of the housekeeper, but ruin valuable fabrics.

For twenty-five years we have spent a large sum of money educating people as to the soap situation, and it has paid us so far. We will continue the good health campaign and invite you most cordially to give Hewitt's Easy Task Soap a trial, giving you the opportunity to do so one the most liberal basis we can offer. Buy two cakes from your grocer for ten cents, and if the first does not please you, return the other and get your money back. Is this good enough?

CHANGE ON C. & O.

A SPINE BATH

Here's a Splendid Plan For Bracing the Nerves.

That tired feeling is a condition which at times comes to all of us. One of the best ways to recuperate on occasions of this sort is to enjoy a "spine bath." There is nothing unpleasant about it. Indeed, the sensation is delightful.

Take a bottle of Dr. Wright's Rapid Relief and have somebody rub down the middle of your back. This is a novel and efficient means of reaching the whole nervous system.

This marvelously superior liniment penetrates the spinal cord—the great trunk of the nervous system—balances up the circulation and excites or induces the highest vital energy.

A Rapid Relief spine-bath is valuable in the relief of brain-fag, nervous headache, nervous depression and the great nerve shocks that attend diphtheria, tetanus and poisonous bites.

Dr. Wright's Rapid Relief is good for both man and beast. A 25c bottle poured on a horse's backbone will cure the animal of colic in a few minutes. It really pays to have a bottle of Rapid Relief at home ready for instant use. The cost is small and the actual value incalculable when pain seizes you. The Wright Rapid Relief Co., of Peebles, Ohio, will give you back your money if results are not satisfactory. Ask your dealer or write direct.

Gets Letter From Her Missing Hubby; Police

Angered because she had gone to church with a woman friend, John Jackson, a plasterer, has skipped out, deserting his wife, Anne Jackson, and 12-year-old daughter.

Jackson disappeared on the evening of July 5, and his whereabouts did not become known until Friday afternoon, when his young daughter received a letter from him, postmarked Cincinnati.

The letter contained some sarcastic remarks to the wife and mother, and thoroughly aroused, she hastened to police headquarters with it. She wanted to swear out a warrant for his arrest and force his return here for abandoning her and child without a cent. He had drawn his pay from Contractor Albert Reiser and even neglected to pay the house rent.

Mrs. Jackson is the woman who served nine months in jail at Huntington, her native city, for gun toting and still blames her husband for the long imprisonment. She jumped her bond, but was arrested here and taken back to West Virginia on requisition papers. Later she got into the limelight again when it was discovered she and a trusty who had been acting as turnkey had been corresponding and were planning to elope. This she acknowledged to the local police Friday, but said it was all a joke, and she would not have eloped under any circumstances, for, though Jackson has always mistreated her, she adored the very ground he walked on. She was married to him when she was but 14 years of age. Recently she caught him flirting with another woman at he Biggs House and she created quite a scene.

They gave up their rooms there and spent a week at the Hotel Portsmouth, and have since been living on East Fourth street. She said she was never a church-going woman and Jackson felt she had no right to accompany a friend to a prayer meeting last Wednesday night. A stormy meeting followed her return home and Jackson quit the house. She decided to return to police headquarters again Saturday and hoped by that time to arrive at some definite decision.

JUDGE BLAIR'S BEAN PATCH IN DANGER OF ANNIHILATION

For a time Friday night the bean patch of Judge A. Z. Blair, on Rose Ridge, was in grave danger of being completely wiped out.

The Judge had retired for the night when he heard something stirring about in his garden. He went out to investigate and found the cause of the disturbance was a pony belonging to one of George Mathews' sons. He summoned police aid, and after much wading around in the soft mud and rain water, the jurist and Officer Ruark succeeded in rounding up the pony, which was taken over to the Mathews premises.

State House Talk

Columbus, Ohio, July 8.—A ruling was given to the public service commission of Ohio Saturday, by Attorney General Hogan, which is very pleasing to the three members of that body, General O. H. Hughes, O. P. Gothlin and John C. Sullivan. It is that they may legally draw the new salaries of $6,000 appropriated for them by the general assembly without violating the constitutional prohibition against the increasing of an official's salary during his regular term. As members of the Ohio railroad commission, these three officials drew salaries of $5,000. The general assembly changed the name of the railroad commission to that of public service commission, and added many new powers and duties to the new commission. A question arose as to whether or not it would be legal for the commissioners to draw the increased salary.

Section 20 of Article 2 of the constitution provides that no change shall be made in the salary of any officer during the existing term unless the office is abolished. It is the opinion of the attorney general that in changing the railroad commission so as to give it power over all public utilities, a new office has been created, and that the members of it, to-wit: Commissioners Hughes, Gothlin and Sullivan, are entitled to the $1,000 increases from July 1, 1911, when the public service commission came into existence.

In another opinion, the attorney general holds that the unused portion of the appropriations carried in the appropriation bills for 1911 and 1912 for the railroad commission, is available for use of the public service commission. Had the holding been otherwise, the new commission would have been badly crippled for finances.

How would you like to be sued for $1,000,000? This is what has happened to John P. White, international president of the miners, who has been in Ohio most of the time this week. Although being sued for such a large sum, President White is not worrying, and really, never expects to pay it. President White refused to admit into membership in the miners' union, non-union men who came into Iowa to break a coal strike, and these brought suit against him for damages, each asking for $10,000. The coal operators' association of Iowa, is believed to be behind the suit. President White defeated Tom L. Lewis for re-election to the presidency this year. White will probably have no opposition for re-election.

State Labor Commissioner Charles H. Wirmel is not inclined to accept the tender by Governor Harmon of appointment on the new board of awards of the workmen's compensation commission. There are to be three members appointed, each to draw an annual salary of $5,000. Friday, Commissioner Wirmel concluded that he would prefer to remain in his present place. If Governor Harmon insists, of course, he will take the new position. Being labor commissioner pays $3,000 annually.

On Monday, for the first time in twenty years, the state school commissioner's office becomes Democratic. Frank W. Miller, a Democrat, of Dayton, on that day will succeed John W. Zeller, a Republican, of Findlay, as state school commissioner. The last Democratic state school commissioner of Ohio, Charles C. Miller, will be chief clerk to the new commissioner. The present force, all Republicans, will be succeeded by Democrats. J. R. Clarke, of Springfield, examination clerk, who retires Monday, will not be out of a job very long. He has been appointed by the new commissioner as one of the four agricultural supervisors, to give instruction on that subject in the schools of the state.

State and county sealers of weights and measures will meet with State Dairy and Food Commissioner S. E. Strode, the state sealer, for a conference regarding the new weights and measures law at Cedar Point, July 11 and 12. The attorney general's department is preparing rulings on questions raised affecting the law, and these will be presented and discussed for the information of the sealers and their deputies. It is expected that about 200 will be present. Commissioner Strode is desirous of bringing about a uniformity of action on the part of the sealers in enforcing the law.

The Sandusky board of health has refused to permit the erection of tents at Cedar Point, for the use of legislators during their return there the first week in August. It is claimed that the use of tents would be unsanitary. This will be a disappointment to some of the members who had expected to camp out during the meeting. They will not need to remain away, however, as ample hotel accommodations can be had.

Blake.

FOR MAYOR.

I will be a candidate for the nomination for mayor of the city of Portsmouth subject to the decision of the Democratic primary to be held Sept 5th and respectfully solicit the support of the voters of this city.

SOCIALIST COLUMN

(ROBERT DODGE.)

In all the civilizations of the past Selfishness has ruled. It has exalted worship while forgetting mercy. It has built the great cathedral and surrounded it by the hovels of poverty. Competition has always been the slogan of Selfishness. The history of industrial and commercial life shows this, and while fraternity has been looked upon as a fine sentiment, yet it has been passive; that is to say, inactive in actual business affairs.

Now Socialism aims to give all an equal opportunity in the business of making a living and to place all upon a plane of economic equality. In fact, it professes to be based on the doctrine of universal brotherhood, and it wages a constant warfare against the violation of this sentiment.

Many formerly atheistic Socialists in seeking for a firm basis for their belief in the common brotherhood of man have been led to accept the doctrine of the fatherhood of God.

The brotherhood of man must rest on the fatherhood of God, for there is no other foundation.

Individualism is gradually giving away to Socialism. The age of competition is giving away to co-operation, and while much of modern Socialism is bitterly against the church as at present organized and conducted, yet Christianity and Socialism rest upon the same foundation; that of brotherhood and love. And, for this new life, men everywhere are longing, seeking and struggling, and daily the struggle grows more fierce.

From this struggle the church can not stand aloof; must not in fact, but should lead in the charge with Liberty, Fraternity and Equality inscribed on her banners. The work will be done, if not in co-operation with the church, then without it; for it is the Lord's work, and he will raise up men, as of old, to lead his forces.

But we must be very careful to teach and keep to the front at all times, the fact that Socialism is purely an economic movement and affects religion and morals only by giving all an improved social condition and thus make it possible to develop not alone the physical, but also the mental and moral qualities, and so make a higher spiritual life possible for all. We must show that Socialism is the most scientific as well as the most moral solution of the bread and butter question, and that it demands that this question must be settled sepedily and settled right. This, and nothing more or less, is the program of the Socialist party.

$30,000 Melon Is Cut

Semi-weekly pay day came at the steel mills Saturday, and all the morning the Central bank was busy cashing the checks of the sturdy workers, who drew a total of wages right up to $30,000.

These mills are a great institution, for months they have been paying out not less than $28,000 every two weeks, and when all the additions now under way are put in operation, it will not be long before that sum is better than doubled.

FLOOD REMINDS MIKE OF PORTSMOUTH LIFE

Mike Stanton has remembered his friend, Roy McElhaney, with a swell Panama hat, sent all the way from Santa Fe, N. M. Accompanying same Mike penned a note telling of the big Fourth of July celebration held there and of the rainstorms which were the worst in the history of New Mexico. Water was three feet deep in the Elk theatre, of which he is manager, and it reminded him of the flood times of this, his native city.

A Welcome Change

Smoke curling up from the farmhouse chimney as the men are coming in from the fields, gives a pretty suggestion of a good supper and a comfortable home. But it also means a hot, tired woman, working hard over a blazing fire.

Your wife can escape this with a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove.

A New Perfection keeps a kitchen many degrees cooler than any other range, yet it does all a coal or wood range can do. It saves time, labor and fuel. No wood to cut; no coal to carry; no ashes; no soot. With the New Perfection oven it is the best cooking device you can find anywhere.

New Perfection
WICK BLUE FLAME
Oil Cook-stove

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Handsomely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, Ill., July 8.—The speculative markets the past week have been confined almost altogether to corn and oats, and as one very prominent trader on the board remarked after the close today: "This has been a week of mysteries"; the mysteries consisting in why corn would keep constantly advancing when we have more corn, fully five times as much, in the elevators here in Chicago than we had the same date last year, and the receipts for the past two weeks have been the heaviest that ever was known during the same period. Still the hot winds coupled with the what he termed "hot air" was getting in its work. He also remarked that if the states complained of did not raise a bushel of corn that the other corn-growing states would overcome it with the enormous amount of corn carried over from the old crop, and altogether would make up the deficiency.

Oats have been following corn, and wheat has had its ups and downs this week, but closing a fraction lower than last Saturday. All threshing returns from the winter wheat districts are showing up most excellent, both in quantity and in quality, indicating that the statistics giving us almost five hundred million bushel crop of winter wheat would prove correct.

(By Associated Press)

New York, July 8—The intense heat which prevailed for several days over the great grain growing sections of the country led to a crop scare which unsettled prices of stocks. The market fell off abruptly in the first half of the week, on the receipt of reports from many sections of damage to crops from heat and drought. Rains and relief from the heat were followed by a brisk recovery of prices. The movement of stocks through the week demonstrated that the condition of the crops was the predominating influence.

The disturbed condition of the foreign markets which grew out of the Moroccan situation led to some selling here for foreign account and pressure from this source will be a factor in weakening the market early in the week.

Depression of the coal road stocks was associated with the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission against Lehigh Valley in the anthracite rate case. United States Steel was benefitted by reports of distinct improvement in the steel trade and displayed marked strength.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Enos Reed.

As a severe shock to Portsmouth friends came the news Saturday of the death at Batavia, of Mrs. Enos Reed, wife of a prominent former local druggist.

Mrs. Reed, who was past 70 years of age, had been a sufferer with paralysis for the past few months. The husband is also in feeble health, and though Mrs. Henry Hall received a letter from Batavia only Friday, saying he was holding his own, the word Saturday was that he was not expected to survive his wife much longer. Both he and his wife had been ill since last September.

News of Mrs. Reed's death was received by Mrs. Irving Drew, whom Miss Stella Reed, a daughter of Mr. Reed by a former marriage, has frequently visited in the past.

Mrs. Reed before her marriage was Maria Seely, of Marietta, and came to Portsmouth as a bride. Mr. Reed for years conducted a drug store at the Davis corner, Second and Court streets, selling out to Wurster Bros. He still owns real estate in Portsmouth, including the building in which the late Squire Henry Hall's office was located. The Squire was Mr. Reed's agent here for years.

The funeral of Mrs. Reed will take place at New Richmond Monday.

Robert Zeek

Concerning the death of Robert Zeek, father of Edward Zeek, of New Boston, who passed away Friday at Ironton, the Morning Irontonian says:

"Robert Zeek, an honored member of the G. A. R. has responded to the call to join the ranks of heroes with whom he fought shoulder to shoulder for his country's cause during the Civil War, and who now are assembled on the other side of the Great Divide, awaiting to greet Comrade Robert Zeek, as he advances in glorified spirituality.

Robert Zeek enlisted early in the service and throughout the war served his country as only a loyal, patriotic heart can, whose every throb sends pulsating through his veins, the warm life blood that he is willing and ready to offer was a sacrifice on the altar of patriotism. Not content with the ordinary duties of a soldier, he took up the more dangerous life of a scout and was one of the famous band known as Blazier's Scouts, who won distinction by their daring bravery during the service.

The deceased, who had not been able to work for some time owing to his advanced age, spent the greater part of his time in the active work of the G. A. R. and always carried the big flag on gala days when the veterans marched. He took great pride in bearing aloft the beautiful folds of Old Glory, and no later than Decoration Day, marched in his customary place. The day being exceedingly hot and the flag heavy, the strain on the brave old soldier's strength, he being a sufferer from Bright's disease, was too great. He took to his bed immediately after and never left it.

His death occurred shortly after three o'clock Friday afternoon at his home on Fourth street, between Spruce and Pine. He was seventy-one years old and most of his life has been spent here in Ironton. He leaves a wife and four children: William Zeek of Mulberry street; Edward Zeek, of New Boston; Mrs. Jacob Zeek, of Madisonville, and Mrs. Joseph Beals, of Cincinnati. John Zeek, of this city, is a brother.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Pine Street church and will be under the auspices of the G. A. R. Rev. Henderson will deliver the funeral sermon."

William Lee.

Dorothy Blakeman.

Friday morning at 10 o'clock the funeral services of Dorothy, the little eight-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mary Blakeman, of Stockdale, were conducted by Rev. Mr. Hall, of Beavertown.

The child was ill with spinal meningitis but five or six days and her death came as a terrible shock to her mother, who was left a widow two years ago when her husband, Alva Blakeman, died.

Mrs. Blakeman was formerly Miss Mary Bess, well known to many in Portsmouth. She has four other small children to support.

Best Method Ever Devised.

Talk about the tax payers, the rents demanded in towns and cities where Building and Loan Associations are not prominent factors, the rents are outrageous. The rent payers put up the stuff and are the real back-bone of the town. The town or city needs Building and Loan Associations. Wherever these associations have been established the communities have been enriched. It is the best method of saving money ever devised. It is the co-operative home builder. WILL PUT IN POWER PLANT

Within the next thirty days the Selby Shoe Company will install one of the most complete power plants in the country. The one now in use, and which has been in operation for a good many years, is to be taken out entirely.

The new battery of boilers will be equipped with automatic stokers overhead coal bunkers and the unit boiler system will be used. The change will necessitate the expenditure of almost $25,000, as an immense stack will have to be built in conjunction with the plant. An official of the firm stated to the Times Saturday that the stack would be the largest in the city, and one of the tallest in Southern Ohio. Work on the changes will be begun in a few days, and the firm hopes to be able to go right on with its work. Coal will be used exclusively in the boilers as the firm says it gives them the desired results.

This sweeping change in the power plant has been under consideration for several months. There had been some talk of putting up the new plant on the site of the proposed warehouse on East Tenth street, but this idea was soon abandoned.

Cow Run By Lightning

Winsted, Conn., July 8—Just before the storm broke last evening Peter Tyer of Lee, Mass., tied his cow to a tree. A lightning bolt split the tree for twenty feet, cut the rope which fastened the cow, and then threw the rope into an apple tree some fifteen feet away, where it was found to be firmly fastened to a limb. After examining the cow Tyer remarked: "She's all right, except that she lost her cud, and her milk tastes like gunpowder tea."

A Splendid Tonic

Cora, Ky.—Mrs. Iva Moore, of this place, says: "I was so weak I could hardly walk. I tried Cardui and was greatly relieved. It is a splendid tonic. I have recommended Cardui to many friends, who tried it with good results." Testimony like this comes unsolicited from thousands of earnest women, who have been benefited by the timely use of that successful tonic medicine, Cardui. Purely vegetable, mild, but reliable. Cardui well merits its high place in the esteem of those who have tried it. It relieves women's pains, and strengthens weak women. It is certainly worth a trial. Your druggist sells Cardui.

Attendance increases nightly at the Casino and many new patrons have been added to the long list of enthusiastic admirers of the clever Millbrook Company. The past week has proven a record-breaker with the large holiday matinee on Tuesday, which swelled the receipts to a most gratifying total.

"The Handicap" may be recorded as one of the most successful farces ever attempted by this sterling company, and its subtle humor will afford many delightful recollections.

It will be presented for the last time tonight, and those who have not seen it will have been denied an evening of wholesome fun unless they attend tonight's performance at the Casino.

On Monday, June 10, The Millbrook Company commences its fourth week with the first production in America of the most wonderful drama of modern times, a play which will be regarded as an especial treat to lovers of a verile, daring story, superbly told.

"His Bad Angel" was played by Forbes-Robertson and Mrs. Patrick Campbell and created a veritable furore.

All other plays of the same theme pale into insignificance, and "His Bad Angel" stands alone as the most masterly play of modern times.

Nothing like it has ever been attempted by The Millbrook Company and much interest attaches to its night.

Miss Beatrice Deane, until last Saturday a hat trimmer in a milliner's shop on East Main street, Terre Haute, Ind., made her stage debut last night in "The Red Rose" at the Globe Theatre in New York. Miss Helen Harvest, who last season understudied the role of Ethel Granger-Simpson in the Tarkington-Wilson comedy, received her first opportunity to play the part during the play's record run in her home city and won a marked success. She had a number of other opportunities later in the season, and did so well that she has been rewarded by being given the part permanently.

Leavenworth, Kansas, July 8—C. F. The jury in the case was out but one minute and brought in a verdict of not guilty.

The reproduction of colors through the medium of the moving picture machine has been accomplished. It would therefore seem reasonable to predict that the moving picture business, which has assumed such lordly proportions throughout the civilized world within the past decade, has but entered upon the threshold of its existence in spite of the millions of dollars which it has already made for those interested in it, and in spite of the countless benefits of an entertainment and educational nature which it has showered upon the millions of people everywhere with whom the "nickle show" has become a confirmed habit.

The perfected color photography process for the moving picture machine is embodied in the Urban-Smith patents, which are controlled by the Kinemacolor Company of New York. Demonstrations which this company have given in Chicago within the past week have proved conclusively to even the doubting Thomases that the dream of scores of expert moving picture manufacturers and inventors have finally been realized. And with the fulfillment of this dream it becomes apparent that even those who tried for years without cessation to perfect the color process knew not the possibilities of the thing on which they were working.

Ed. Culbertson, who resigned as chief clerk of the C. & O. agency here, expects to leave for his new location at Ft. Thomas, Ky., Tuesday.

LIGHTNING KILLS HORSE

Pet, the ancient and reliable nag belonging to the John W. Hogan family on the Chillicothe pike, just beyond the city limits, was killed by lightning during the thunder storm early Friday afternoon. The bolt hit a barn in which the animal was stabled, but did no other damage beyond paralyzing Pet, who died after heroic efforts had been made to resuscitate her. It was singular the current did not set fire to the barn, as it was pretty well filled with hay.

A singular fact in connection with the incident is that lightning struck near to the Hogan home four times within half an hour, each other time hitting a tree.

Rain Cost Champs Game At Hamilton

Hamilton, O., July 8.—The Toolmakers got away to a flying start in Friday's four and one-half round battle with the Champs and were never headed. They got busy in the first round, scoring two runs as follows: Barton walked and went to third on Donnelly's single. Donnelly going to second on Potts' throw to third, both men scoring on Decker's single to right. This was the only round that they were able to score in and while they hit Moore quite freely he managed to keep them well scattered. Bush was on the hill for the Toolmakers for the first time since his illness and they found him for but four hits, one of these however was one for four sacks by Tennant who hit to deep center for what was probably the longest hit ever made at the local yard. Potts, Conwell and Horning were the other three that found him for safeties. Keefe was the shining light in the field and was largely responsible for the Toolmakers' victory, accepting three very difficult chances in the center garden, two of which were line drives by Moore and Hammond that would ordinarily have been good for three sacks. The game was called after the Champs batted in their half of the fifth on account of rain. It seems that the local crew have at last dropped that awful hoodoo that has followed them the greater part of the season, this being the first time that they have been able to win three in a row. Harry Truby's work was exceptionally good, not a kick having been registered on any of his decisions. The score:

Big Deal On Tap

Chicago, July 8.—Jimmy Sheckard, Artie Hoffman, Joe Tinker and Johnny Evers—will one of this celebrated quartet of Cubs be manager of the Cincinnati Reds next season?

Reports, insistent and recurring, to the effect that the Cubs and Reds will pull off a trade at the close of the present season by which one of the star Cubs goes in exchange for a number of Cincy's experts, were heard on all sides this afternoon.

To make it all the stronger, it was reported that Clark Griffith, present manager of the Reds, had expressed himself as through with the major league game. He is said to have remarked to a friend that he would own a part interest in an American association or an Eastern league team next season.

Keefe Is Sure Star

Although on a tail end club, Keefe, the Hams' left fielder, is one of the stars of the Ohio State league. He is a brilliant fielder, a fast man on the base paths and a terrific hitter, batting from either side of the plate with equal success. Some scout will overlook a good man if he don't fasten his hooks on Mr. Keefe.—Lima Times.

Foutz Jumps Babes

Manager Wrigley was not certain last night whether Frank Foutz had jumped the team or what had happened. He was about the hotel all morning, but before the game, sent word that he had the cramps and he would not be unable to play, says the Chillicothe Advertiser. McGraynor was pressed into service and after the game Foutz said he would be unable to go to Springfield. Money was left [illegible] to join the team when able [illegible] it was reported that he was [illegible] his way to Columbus. Manager Wrigley thought that perhaps Foutz [illegible] to at Springfield today, but was [illegible] certain. In order to be prepared [illegible] took Longmore, the pitcher, [illegible] and will let him work one of the [illegible] if McGraynor is compelled to [illegible] the field.

A TIP TO THE FAN FOLK

Did you ever have the feeling you were "all in," down and out,
As of mud upon your skylight, or your brain you had the gout?
When you sauntered to your office in a semi-hearted way
And earned perhaps one-seventh of your wage or daily pay?
When your energy had left you, and your dizzy dome would throb
As you spent the day in yawning or [illegible] on your job?
Well, you have if you are human—so, while out among the crowd
In the grandstand or the bleachers, shouting curses long and loud
At some "boob" or costly bobble, let the old dope trickle through
That, perhaps, the [illegible] baseman has the same old feeling, [illegible]

While sparring with the cash book or the ledger in your den,
Don't you feel a brainstorm blowing in your noton now and then?
When the numbers dance around you, while you're ripping, roving [illegible]
That the pop-eyed set of figures in your columns fail to add?
When your orbs feel dry and blinky, and the harder that you [illegible]
All the more the figures jumble on the pages of your book?
It's a lead pipe [illegible] so before you seek the gore
Of some indicator wielder whose decision blocked the score,
Stop and figure for a second, let the old dope trickle through
That the umpire is entitled to his little off days, too.

Trade Rumors Are Afloat In Chilly

Chillicothe, O., July 8.—The streets were filled with all kinds of rumors last night, about alleged trades that had been made, but the local directors know nothing about anything of the sort, and it is probably mostly hot air. The fact that Manager Wrigley has some players whom he is willing to trade for others, may have caused all this talk but up to this time there has been nothing doing.

Lima Signs Young One

Lima, O., July 8.—Admirers of Eddie Ashton, local pitcher who twirled the Lima high school team to the state championship two years ago and who has since pitched great ball for some of the strong semi-professional teams in this section, will be pleased to learn that he will don a Lima uniform this afternoon and will work out for Manager Osborne. The latter has heard flattering reports in regard to Ashton and wanted an opportunity to look him over, as he is in need of pitching material.

Ashton possesses all the requisites of a pitcher. He is a stockily built youngster, of good habits and is in excellent condition. He has plenty of speed and an abundance of curves. He signed for a tryout with Piqua two years ago when that city was admitted to the State league but Piqua was dropped when the league found it impossible to gain admission to Huntington, W. Va. Ashton has never had any professional experience but his friends are confident that he will convince Manager Osborne that he has the stuff to make him a winning pitcher in the Ohio State league.

Beans In Bad Shape

It will be a misfit aggregation that will represent Lima on the ball field this afternoon, three of the regulars being laid up for repairs, says Bud Gas[illegible] in Lima Times. Manager Osborne was undecided as to how the team would line up this afternoon, except that Burke would cover short and a pitcher would play right field. Sandherr is still unable to play because of the injury to his left knee, caused by being spiked by Nally at Springfield Tuesday afternoon.

Friend reported this morning with his left jaw swollen to almost double its natural size, caused by an ulcerated tooth, and he will not be able to play this afternoon. McCulloch has a badly bruised finger, but may play. If not, pitchers will have to be used on second and in right field. It is unfortunate that the team is so crippled at a time when they had begun [illegible]

LOCAL OPTION LEAGUE PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN

The Scioto County Local Option League is now manned with a complete set of officials and is ready to begin the campaign that will take place this fall to determine whether or not Scioto county will remain in the dry column for the coming three years as provided under the Rose Local option bill.

About fifty members of the league were present at a meeting held in the United Brethren church Saturday afternoon, at which time a set of new officials was named. The league showed its confidence in John T. Breece by re-electing him to the position of president. Mr. Breece, who presided at the meeting, accepted, thanking the members for their confidence in a neat little speech, in which he pledged his every effort to keep Scioto county in the saloonless class.

The meeting was called promptly at 1 o'clock and representatives from practically every section of the county were present. Several lively addresses were made in the course of the afternoon session, each speaker expressing himself as confident that the people would see to it that local option would prevail for the next three years.

The committee on nominations consisting of F. L. Marting, A. L. Rickey and Addison Taylor, reported shortly after the league went into session. Their report, which was unanimously adopted, was as follows:

After the officers had been [illegible] Judge A. Z. Blair made a [illegible], which was unanimously [illegible] to the effect that the officers be empowered to [illegible] various subcommittees, and [illegible] same power be given to [illegible]ship and ward officers.

Judge [illegible] suggested that the [illegible] get busy at once and see [illegible] careful poll of all voters in [illegible] city. He stated that the [illegible] would have to be watched [illegible] moves of the "wets" and [illegible] that no illegal votes were [illegible].

[illegible] Judge Blair stated [illegible] had learned that it was [illegible] of some of the [illegible] "wets" to induce [illegible] coming into this county [illegible] samples of liquor [illegible] [illegible] "I know all about [illegible]," said the [illegible] [illegible] will be open [illegible] after the election [illegible] "They will [illegible] their sorrow." [illegible] stated that the [illegible] interested in the [illegible] up Scioto county [illegible] Anderson, Ind., did valuable service in the election held there some time ago, and it was mainly through their efforts that Anderson went 'dry,'" said the Judge.

Lafayette Taylor, of Harden, took the floor and suggested that personal workers could accomplish more than a speech-making campaign. He stated, however, that the workers should be men of influence, adding that he had seen people who knew all about the local option question and could refute every argument the "wets" put forth, but who were not the proper people to approach voters. "Get men in whom the community has confidence, rather than select them for their intellectuality," said Mr. Taylor.

Chairman Breece took the floor to remark that it was the duty of every member of the league to secure all the information they could that had any bearing whatever upon the campaign. "And when you get it, come to the officials with it; don't tell your neighbors." He said that the arguments they expected to go before the voters with could not be refuted and would have to be accepted by all fair minded people.

J. H. Finney, who was chosen as chairman of the speaking bureau, took the floor and suggested that every school district be thoroughly organized and canvassed. He stated that in Portsmouth alone 2,000 young men were enrolled as members of various bible classes. "Not all of these men will vote 'dry'," said Mr. Finney, "but the great majority will, and their influence is bound to be felt in the election."

Addison Taylor, of Sciotoville, one of the vice presidents, made a sort of rapid fire speech. He stated that he was sorry to say that a member of his church in Sciotoville was a leader for the "wets." He stated that the "drys" of Sciotoville were simply itching for a chance to get at the question, and that they expected to help skin the "wets" so badly that they would never come back for more.

Judge Harry Ball was the next speaker. His talk was mainly along statistical lines. He stated that if the city administration enforced the local option laws to the letter, that Portsmouth could get along with not more than three policemen. He stated that not more than ten per cent. as much liquor was being shipped into the city as was consumed during the days of the saloons. He said that police court records showed there was a falling off of 50 per cent. in the number of arrests made for drunkenness, and that there was not a single argument the "wets" presented that could not be successfully refuted.

J. R. Gilliland, who was chosen treasurer of the organization, was introduced to the meeting and made a few remarks, laying particular stress upon the necessity of a systematic campaign.

Mrs. Charles Rowe, president of the W. C. T. U., was introduced amid applause. She stated that the organization over which she presided would stand loyally by the local option league and render the organization every assistance possible. Mrs. Rowe stated that the constitutional convention would doubtless give women the right to vote. "When that time comes," said Mrs. Rowe, "every county in Ohio will go 'dry' at the very first chance."

Chairman Breece took a mild fall out of the "Business Men's Meeting" which he said was held at the Washington hotel, Wednesday. "I've got the names of every one of those alleged business men," said Chairman Breece, "and I want to say that not one in five would be so recognized if their names were made public." He added that the Wets would call their organization the "Business Men's League," as a subterfuge, and not because any business men of any prominence were connected with it."

Mrs. Rowe at this point asked the league if there was any law that would prevent the posting of brewery advertisements about the city. Judge Blair informed her there was not.

Chairman Breece then entertained a motion to adjourn, subject to the call of the chair, which was carried.

Rev. Freeman W. Chase pronounced the benediction.

Judge Blair Makes Address.

Judge A. Z. Blair was the principal speaker at the morning session of the Scioto County Local Option League held at the United Brethren church. The judge talked for about twenty minutes and his talk was mainly along statistical lines. He challenged the "Wets" to produce one argument that would stand the test of investigation, hurling the challenge at the feet of Judge F. L. Sikes, whom he charged with being the manager of the Wets campaign and who he said was in the employ of the brewery people and had been drawing money from that source for some time.

Concerning this Judge Blair said:

"Judge Sikes is being paid to work for the liquor interests in this county and has been for some time. He is the manager of the Wets campaign. And I want to say further that Judge Sikes, while appearing to be "dry" three years ago, did not fool me one little bit."

Will Take Care. Of Money Users.

Another one of Judge Blair's statements brought forth cheers from the half hundred men who were present. He said:

"The liquor interests have all kinds of money—they have an unlimited supply and I understand that they are saying they expect to use it in the coming local option campaign. They say they have found a way to use it so they will not come under the jurisdiction of the courts. We will take care of that feature when the time comes—at present it is not worrying me in the least. It is possible to call together a grand jury whenever the same is deemed necessary. We took care of this feature three years ago and that is the reason why the money proposition on the Wets side does not cause me the least bit of uneasiness."

Takes Up The Divorce Question.

The judge took up the divorce question, and admitted that there were many couples freed during the past three years. "But," said the speaker, "I want to state emphatically and knowingly that 70 per cent of the divorces granted during the dry regime were the result of saloons before the people of Portsmouth voted them out. In other words fully 70 per cent of the divorces granted are the direct result of the seed planted three years ago—that's the reason why the crop has been so heavy."

The speaker said that this was the first time in twenty years that there were two consecutive years where it had not been found necessary to raise the taxes. "That," said the judge, "is an unanswerable argument in favor of dry conditions."

"The deposits in the banks of Portsmouth show a healthy increase. In fact there are now on deposit $750,000 more than when the saloons were voted out, while in the past three years the deposits in the Chillicothe banks had decreased $205,000."

Tells About The Schools.

"The enrollment in our public schools is a splendid argument in favor of the drys. The first year after the saloons were banished from our midst the attendance increased 9 per cent. Last year the attendance increased 23 per cent. and we have been compelled to begin the erection of a high school building that will cost the tax payers one quarter of a million dollars. And if I am informed correctly the school board is now casting about for a site on which to erect a mammoth building to accommodate young people on the hill tops."

"One thing I have noticed in my travels about the country and that is that the people of Portsmouth are the neatest, tidiest, cleanest and best dressed of any small city in the country. Go into a wet town and you meet beer bloats and whiskey guzzlers—ragged and dirty."

Judge Blair stated that the "wets" would wage a relentless campaign and would not hesitate to attack the character of the leading dry workers in the city. "They will work both ends against the middle," said the judge. "They say to people in the city that the country precincts will roll up a big majority for them, and to country people that the city will not go less than 600 wet. I want to say to you people that if we fight and fight earnestly that the county will not only go dry but the city will vote overwhelmingly dry. We have the facts with which to present to the voters, while the "Wets" will have to rely upon misrepresentation."

"The 'Wets,'" said the judge, "claim that more liquor and beer has been shipped in this city than would have been consumed were there saloons here. The statement is false and I would advise the 'Wets' to go to the railroad companies and express companies and secure their figures as to the amount of wet goods that have been shipped into Portsmouth during the past three years. I am quite certain they will find that the amount received here will not total more than 10 per cent of what was consumed in this city during the last three years of saloons."

Judge Blair urged the dry workers to get busy and work early and late. "Report to the workers often and be sure and not offend the people, you interview. Remember a man has a right to an honest opinion and above all things avoid losing your temper," said he.

Minister Says Porter Is Dry.

Chairman John T. Breece then introduced Rev. Pfaltzgraf of Wheelersburg, who spoke for a few moments. He stated he was satisfied Upper Porter would go overwhelmingly dry. "We are dry out there and want to be put to work any place in the county where we can do any good for the temperance cause."

E. F. Rideout, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., said in part, "Since the Billy Sunday meetings many railroad men are standing for Jesus Christ who previous to the coming of the great evangelist were wet and voted wet. Now they are dry and will vote and work that day. Only yesterday I asked a prominent railroad man if he would be willing to do some campaigning in the city and he answered 'yes' with a right royal good will. He was wet before. Many of the railroad men will take an active interest in behalf of the drys and will work hard to keep Portsmouth free from the contaminating influence of the saloons."

Lafayette Taylor stated that so far as he knows conditions are very favorable for the drys at Rarden. "I fear, however," said Mr. Taylor, "that we will become overconfident. Let us all work as never before, presenting facts, using common sense and doing our whole duty. If we do that we need not fear the result."

William Sherbourne of Madison township, stated that he was convinced that some of the people who voted dry under great pressure three years ago might be found with the wets in the coming campaign. He said that those people in Madison township who were dry because of principle would be out at the polls and work early and late for the success of the cause.

At this time a recess of one hour was announced by Chairman Breece.

GIRL IS CHOKED AS SHE SLEPT; BURGLAR SCARES

Police were called out to investigate several attempted burglaries Friday night.

The most daring case was that reported from the home of Philip Moore, a young shoeworker, occupying apartments over J. J. Orlett's grocery on Market street. Shortly before midnight Moore and wife were startled by screams. Rushing into an adjoining room they found their niece, Miss Janie Chaffin, aged 20, lying across the bed in a dazed condition and her face black and blue while finger marks on the throat gave evidence of a struggle. The young woman was with difficulty revived. She could give no clue to her assailant for the room had been dark.

Moore quickly summoned police. Investigation showed a ladder resting against the rear part of the building and no one knew how long it had been there.

Miss Chaffin was completely unnerved by her experience. She was attacked while she lay sound asleep.

Moore claims that jewelry and other articles have been disappearing from his apartments for some time. When he rushed into the street he encountered two negroes who were inquiring as to the direction of the B. & O. S.-W. depot. He was unarmed or he would have detained them.

The home of J. A. Riding at No. 921 Chillicothe street, was also the scene of an attempted burglary about 11:30. Mrs. Riding had been away from home about an hour taking a dinner basket to her husband who is employed as express messenger on the N. & W.

Just after entering her home she heard a noise in the yard. Her bull dog barked all the while and she called the police. Before they arrived she noticed two negroes running it up Tenth street.

About 1 a. m. the police were called to No. 416 Waller street to search for a prowler but he had made good his escape.

Warden Jones Hampered In Prison Reform Plans

Columbus, O., July 8—Warden Jones announced Friday that hereafter he would assume personal and entire charge of the penitentiary and that all information regarding the affairs at the institution would come from him. He also said that he was going to preside in prison court, instead of letting the deputy wardens do this.

It is rumored that the penitentiary that the "golden rule" system the warden thought he had installed was not working and that prisoners were being beaten as under former administrations, without a report of it coming to the warden.

It has been customary for Warden Jones to allow his deputies, Charles F. Resch and B. F. Zuber, to take entire charge of the prisoners, punish them for their misdemeanors and to report all violations to him.

It is charged that both Resch and Zuzer have been covering up the real facts of the treatment of prisoners and making their reports to the warden appear as if his humane treatment of prisoners was being used, when in reality the prisoners were still being beaten unmercifully. The deputies have been protecting favorite guards from the wrath of the warden, it is said.

A few days ago Warden Jones learned that a prisoner had a cane broken over his head in the dining room but no report of it reached him. This is said to have "opened the warden's eyes."

Julius W. Huthmacker, serving 3 years from Cuyahoga county, for larceny was badly beaten by Guard E. Bilderback of Holmes county Thursday evening. It is said that no report of the beating given the prisoner by Wilderback reached the warden. The deputy's report saying merely that Huthmacker was reduced to fourth grade for violation of rules. The warden got the information from the inside and will make an investigation.

When asked by reporters why Bilderback hit the prisoner, Deputy Warden Resch left his office Friday, refusing to give any information on the subject.

Warden Jones says he has been hampered in enforcing his ideals relative to the treatment of the prisoners because of politics. Even now the warden cannot discharge a guard without the consent of the board of managers. When the central board takes hold of the institution August 15 the warden may be given absolute control.
